Dear IJGASR Readers,

We regret to inform you that the article titled “Moral Panic, Social Exclusion and The Human Rights of Same-Sex Partners in Ghana,” published in Volume 1 Issue 3, 2022, has been retracted. The retraction is based on the request of the author, Dr. Neha Jain, as it contains some exclusive and private data of a community out of India, that should not be released online.

After thorough examination and review of the article, data seems to be pointing out a specific community. The author has taken full responsibility for the same and has apologized for any inconvenience or confusion they may have caused.

We apologize for any inconvenience or confusion this may have caused and reaffirm our commitment to upholding the integrity of our publication. We thank the author for bringing this matter to our attention and for taking the appropriate steps to retract the article.

Sincerely,

Editorial Team, IJGASR
